

Remote Tank Level Monitoring and Alerts

Monitor Your Ponds and Tanks with Tank Level Monitoring

Having access to real-time data about the liquid levels in your ponds and storage tanks is important to help avoid overflows or shortages. Whether it's water, gas or fertilizer, you can't afford to waste them or run out without warning.

That's why we offer Tank Level Monitoring

- Ideal for monitoring fertilizer, water, and gas levels
- Access levels in real time
- Set alerts to prevent overflow and shortages
- Track inventory remotely

 Save Money

 Save Time

 Improve Efficiency

 Smarter Decisions

Stay Informed with Tank Level Monitoring

- Remote tracking – Connect a sensor and have access to real-time data in height or volume from anywhere.
    - Monitor up to four adjacent tanks with one device.
    - Historical reporting allows you to identify inventory trends.
  - Convenience – Sends text message or email alert when levels hit customizable high and low points.
  - Flexibility – Available as a stand-alone, solar-powered unit, or in AC- and DC-powered configurations.
    - The type of unit is based on whether there is power at the tank and how many tanks you want to track.
    - Different transducers are available based on the kind of liquid/gas in the tank.
    - Options for monitor only and monitor with auxiliary control options.
  - Safety – Transducers can monitor status of both non-explosive and explosive liquids and gases.
-
- Security – Configure a theft monitoring circuit to send alerts to your phone and email when your tank pump is started or stopped.
    - The alerts also keep you informed when your fleet is accessing your tank.
  - Integration – View alongside your other Valley devices on the web or Valley 365® mobile app.
  - Simplicity – The easy-to-understand user interface makes it possible to monitor and control all your devices from virtually anywhere in the world.
  - Optional sensors – Monitor temperature, humidity, wind speed and direction, and rainfall.
  - Local Support – The industry-best Valley Dealer network is there for service and technical support any time you need them.